LINING 'EM OUT

Semi-professional teams in Delaware, O., recently played a game of 28 innings.

Man in Chicago killed himself. He was a German and his son was a player on the White Sox. No wonder life looked dark and gloomy.

Hank O'Day is no rubber-stamp manager.

A batting slump is a thing no person in the world can overcome excepting the affected player. Calling attention in newspapers every day to the fact that any particular player is not hitting is the best way in the world to keep him in a slump. When he begins to step right, gets his stride and begins to feel as though he can hit, then will he hit, and all the newspaper comment in the world will not make him hit.

"I never talk to a man who is not hitting," says Fred Clarke. "What's the use? I have been in slumps myself and I know what they are. I waited. There have been other periods when I didn't feel right at the plate and I couldn't get the life of me feel confident and able to hit. When a man is in a slump he must come out of it by his own natural process. All the talking and coaxing in the world will not cure him, but may only serve to annoy him."

John Devore seems to have been fitting in nicely with the Boston Braes.

Wonder how much Johnny Evers has been contributing to the Boston upheaval?

C. Mathewson, the well-known expert, has discovered that the Braves are dangerous. Beats all how observing these experts are!

Wilbert Robinson is carrying no excess baggage on the rolls. He has cut his team to the bone.

Cozy Dolan is one of the most erratic players in the big league. When he isn't winning games for the Cardinals he is throwing them away.

Something wrong with John K. Tener, boss of the National league. In spite of the fact that he was once a player he seems to think the umpires are human.

According to a story from Pittsburgh, Jeff Tearean and Jack Murray have been talking with President Gwinther, of the Smoky City Federals. This caused the New York "Son" to remark: "Not mentioning any names, there are just about a half dozen so-called champions who could serve McGraw no more nobly than by going over to the independents."

Clark Griffith and Connie Mack refuse to bury the hatchet. Maybe the right suggestion hasn't been made to them. They might be willing to bury it in each other's anatomy.

Ty Cobb says that the Athletics would be considerably more formidable if they adopted a more belligerent air. Whadda ymean "more formidable"? Ty: Those Athletics don't have to scare anybody to win games.

Here is the greatest ball team of all time, in the opinion of Clark Griffith: Charles Comiskey (St. Louis Browns); first base; Eddie Collins (Athletics); second base; Herman Long (Boston).

CUBA MAN MIXED SERIOUSLY WITH A SAW MILL

Employee at Eichwald Mill Grievously Injured as Result of Fall on Unprotected Saw; Jemez Mountain Notes.

Special Correspondence to the Herald

Cuba, N. M., Aug. 16.—Winfred Fletcher, who has been quite ill with typhoid fever, at the home of his father-in-law, J. F. Stubbs, at Señorita, is reported as much better.

A sad accident occurred at the Eichwald sawmill Saturday when Romaldo Santa Ana was caught in the mill, which is unprotected. The most severe injury is to the shoulder, and the bones of the arm are broken and crushed. The saw penetrated the flesh and completely severed a part of the collar bone. A younger brother suffered the loss of a hand in the same manner a few months ago and the family is in straitened circumstances.

State Senator E. A. Miera, accompanied by Juan Sandoval, returned from Bernallillo the last of the week.

Out of town visitors and shoppers this week have been: Dr. Casper of Albuquerque, Mrs. Stubbs of Señorita, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Truby, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Buckner, Oscar Rucker and Son Hatch of Regina.

Ranger E. B. Young with Assistant Ketchum surveyed out the proposed telephone line to the Los Pinos station this week. It is expected that the ranger station will be changed from the Blue Bird location to Los Pinos this fall. This will be a welcome change to all users of the forest as well as to visiting officials, inasmuch as the Blue Bird station is located at a point practically inaccessible during the rainy season and the winter months. Los Pinos station is five miles from Cuba, much nearer the center of the district, and has good roads from all directions.

Mrs. F. Y. Young is confined to her room, under Dr. Bird's care, threatening with typhoid fever.

Ernesto Diaz is one of the most erratic players in the big league. When he isn't winning games for the Cardinals he is throwing them away.

Something wrong with John K. Tener, boss of the National league. In spite of the fact that he was once a player he seems to think the umpires are human.

PROHIBITION BEATEN LAST WEEK IN THE VOTE AT PALOMAS SPGS.

The prohibition election at Palomas Springs last Friday resulted in an unexpected defeat of the prohibition forces, unexpected at least to the drys. The vote was 59 to 17 in favor of the wetts, in spite of the fact that the Rev. Mr. Seder made a campaign for prohibition in which he was aided by some of the officials at the Elephant Butte dam, who would like the saloons at the springs closed up because they result in inefficiency of many of the employees at the dam, especially around pay-day. Austin & Marr, the real estate syndicate who are laying out a townsite on some patented land near the springs, argued that their townsite advertising and development would not be carried on further if the saloons should go out, and this argument seems to have prevailed.

CATTLE OF ALL KIND IN GOOD DEMAND IN KANSAS CITY MARKET

Kansas City Stock Yards, Aug. 17.—Cattle of all kinds were in good demand last week and the general market advanced 15 to 20 cents. The supply was 25,000 head smaller than same week's supply last year. The run today is 19,000 head, largest Monday run this season. Steer buyers demand 10 to 15 cents lower prices today, and after considerable haggling salesmen conceded that amount on medium steers in the native division, prime steers selling steady to 10 cents lower with a top of $10.15. Middle class Kansas and Missouri grass steers, weighing 1100 to 1200 pounds sold at $2.75 to $8.60. Cows and heifers found a good outlet at close to steady prices, particularly medium and common cows. A hurry order for war cattle beef was placed with Armour last week, which helps the market on everything that can be used to fill it. A good many country buyers are here today, and stockmen and traders are selling steady. Fleisch feeders are worth $7.75 to $8.25, and stock steers largely $6.50 to $7.50. Quarantine arrivals are only 27 cars today, and sales in that division do not show as much decline as in the native division, steady to 10 cents lower describing the market there. Top in that division is $7.25, although good Oklahoma wintered steers are quotable up to $7.55. Common light steers sell downwards to $5.50, and good quarantine cows at $5.50 to $6.00. Killers have small stocks of meat on hand, and the general situation favors the selling side, and the decline today is due to a set of conditions effective only for the day.

Hogs opened 10 to 20 cents lower, receipts 7,000 head. Demand was good from all sources, and several loads sold at top late, $9.20, and bulk of sales ranged from $15.00 to $19.15. Chicago reports the hog market a quarter lower, top $9.25, except one fancy load at $9.30, bulk $8.80 to $9.10. Bulk of hog sales in Chicago has been lower than bulk in Kansas City every day since last Tuesday. Extreme necessity of killers for supplies, coupled with small reserves, demand efforts to keep prices down.

Lamb sold 10 to 20 cents lower today, receipts 7,300 head in the sheep division. Utah lambs, 44 pounds average, brought $18.25 today, which price is the top on western lambs in Chicago today. Wellfeats sold at $5.50, ewes at $5.50. Good feeding lambs would sell at $7, but so far this season packers have taken the western offerings with such light sorts that few feeders have been available. Feeding stock will be more plentiful from this time forward.
